

Information and Agreement for the Use of Graphics, Texts, and Image Files Provided by Greenbox

1. Copyright

All graphics, images, and texts provided by Greenbox, whether on our websites or otherwise, are our property and protected by copyright law. The use of copyrighted symbols such as FSC, PEFC, and DIN/CERTCO (DIN 13432 Seedling) is expressly excluded from this agreement. Any unlawful use will result in the user's liability for potential claims by the copyright holders.

2. Usage Rights

By providing or downloading, we grant the user the free usage rights for our logos (greenbox© & eco biopack©) and our transparent product images exclusively for promotional purposes in their own capacity. When used on social media, the image material must be marked with "© greenbox." Mood images (product photos with decoration/background), article titles, and descriptions appearing on our operated websites are excluded from this permission and must not be downloaded or copied. In case of unauthorized use, the user is liable for potential claims by the copyright holders.

Usage rights extend only to the products we have sourced. Usage for products, goods, or services from other manufacturers, suppliers, or service providers is not permitted. This restriction applies both before and after the conclusion of the business relationship between Greenbox GmbH & Co. KG and the user. Any transfer to third parties is not allowed without our explicit consent, except when it involves authorized professionals hired by you, such as graphic designers working on their own projects. If you transfer the material to commercial customers, you must also provide them with this usage agreement.

3. Disclaimer of Liability

The use of our materials is allowed only within a logical context. The user is responsible for any improper or non-product-appropriate use related to products or services sourced from Greenbox GmbH & Co. KG. Similarly, the user is responsible for any improper or non-product-appropriate use by third parties, particularly when such third parties are commercial customers and have been granted usage rights by the user in accordance with the conditions mentioned above.

4. Confirmation

A separate confirmation is not required, as the acceptance of these usage terms is implied through the use of our copyrighted materials.
